Executive Director
Dolores Street Community Services (DSCS)

Founded in 1983, Dolores Street Community Services (DSCS) is a multi-issue, multi-strategy nonprofit organization, with an annual budget of $7.7 million, based in San Francisco’s Mission District. Our mission is to nurture individual wellness and cultivate collective power among low-income and immigrant communities to create a more just society. We provide direct services to meet immediate needs, as well as affect broader change by engaging in advocacy and community organizing, working on a wide range of issues—from homelessness to housing to immigration to employment. We believe deeply that these issues are interconnected and that solidarity and the linking of these issues is core to our work in our efforts to create a more just society. DSCS is seeking an Executive Director who will lead the organization through the next juncture of our 35-year history to build greater organization alignment across program areas, strengthen infrastructure for program collaboration, deepen community partnerships, and work to build a diverse and sustainable funding model. Over the next year, the Executive Director will lead the strategic planning effort to achieve a “dual bottom line” that balances our intended impact with financial reality.

It is a transformative time in DSCS’ 35 year history. After many years of rapid programmatic growth, we have recently spent considerable time working on organizational alignment among our diverse programs which has resulted in our formalizing our organizing work with the development new advocacy and organizing leadership that works across programs. In addition, we are creating a new fundraising and marketing strategy for the agency in order to gain both more exposure and private funding for the agency. The new Executive Director will play the lead role in implementing the next phases of these initiatives.

Position Summary
The Executive Director reports to the Board of Directors and is responsible for the organization's consistent achievement of its mission and financial objectives. The successful candidate for this position will be a community-spirited individual, proficient and comfortable handling a variety of tasks and overseeing a broad diversity of work areas. They will be skilled in strategic visioning, program planning and management, facilitative leadership, financial management, and fundraising. They will have demonstrated ability to manage strong internal relationships, as well as strategic external partnerships with city officials, collaborative organizations and advocates, philanthropic supporters, and other stakeholders.
