I am pleased to announce our next Brown Bag Seminar, Elder Mistreatment among Chinese and Korean Immigrants: The Roles of Sociocultural Contexts on Perceptions and Help-Seeking Behaviors, presented by Dr. Yeonshim Lee, Assistant Professor of Social Work. The presentation will be held on Wednesday, March 20, 2013 in HSS 224 from 12-1PM.

Dr. Lee’s study identifies the dimensions of elder mistreatment in Chinese and Korean immigrant communities and explores the complexities of abuse embedded in unique social and cultural contexts in the Bay Area. She interviewed 20 local professionals who work primarily in advocacy for Asian elders, and conducted six focus groups involving 60 community members in the San Francisco Bay Area. Five dimensions of elder mistreatment were identified: psychological abuse, neglect by a trusted person, financial exploitation, physical abuse and sexual abuse.

Please join Dr. Lee and the School of Social Work community for an informative presentation and discussion of the context of cultural influences and immigration/acculturation on elder abuse and help-seeking behaviors. We look forward to seeing you there!
